RECOMMENDATION OF THE MAGISTRATE JUDGE

Terry Snow, a state inmate incarcerated at the Red Eagle Work Center, filed this 42 U.S.C. § 1983 action challenging the denial of his eligibility for minimum-community custody status as violative of equal protection. Doc. 1 at 2–7. Snow did not submit the $350 filing fee or $50 administrative fee upon the initiation of this case and, instead, filed a document seeking leave to proceed in forma pauperis before this court. Doc. 2. In support of this request, Snow provided financial information showing the funds available to him in his inmate account upon the initiation of this case. Doc 2 at 3.

After a thorough review of the financial information provided by Snow and pursuant to the requisite provisions of 28 U.S.C. § 1915(b)(1), the court determined Snow had access to sufficient funds to pay the $350.00 filing fee. Doc. 3 at 1. Based on the foregoing, the court ordered that Snow pay the requisite filing fee on or before August 20, 2020. Doc. 3 at 1, The order also specifically advised Snow “that it is his responsibility to submit the appropriate paperwork to the prison account clerk for transmission of his funds to this court for payment of the filing fee.” Doc. 3 at 1. The order further “advised [Snow] that if he is unable to procure the filing fee within the time allowed by this court he must inform the court of such inability and request an extension of time within which to file the fee.” Doc. 3 at 2. Moreover, the court specifically cautioned Snow that failure to pay the filing fee within the time allowed by the court would result in a Recommendation “that his case be dismissed and such dismissal will not be reconsidered unless exceptional circumstances exist.” Doc. 3 at 2.

As of the present date, Snow has failed to pay the $350.00 filing fee or any other response to the order within the time prescribed by the court. The undersigned therefore concludes that this case is due to be dismissed without prejudice. See Moon v. Newsome, 863 F.2d 835, 837 (11th Cir. 1989) (holding that, generally, where a litigant has been forewarned dismissal for failure to obey a court order is not an abuse of discretion). The authority of courts to impose sanctions for failure to prosecute or obey an order is longstanding and acknowledged by Rule 41(b) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. See Link v. Wabash R.R. Co., 370 U.S. 626, 629–30 (1962). This authority empowers the courts “to manage their own affairs so as to achieve the orderly and expeditious disposition of cases.” Id. at 630–31; Mingo v. Sugar Cane Growers Co-Op of Fla., 864 F.2d 101, 102 (11th Cir. 1989) (holding that “[t]he district court possesses the inherent power to police its docket.”). “The sanctions imposed [upon dilatory litigants] can range from a simple reprimand to an order dismissing the action with or without prejudice.” Id.

Accordingly, it is the RECOMMENDATION of the Magistrate Judge that this case be dismissed without prejudice for failure of the plaintiff to pay the full filing fee as ordered by this court.

On or before September 24, 2020 the parties may file objections to the Recommendation. A party must specifically identify the factual findings and legal conclusions in the Recommendation to which the objection is made. Frivolous, conclusive, or general objections to the Recommendation will not be considered.

Failure to file written objections to the proposed factual findings and legal conclusions set forth in the Recommendations of the Magistrate Judge shall bar a party from a de novo determination by the District Court of these factual findings and legal conclusions and shall “waive the right to challenge on appeal the District Court’s order based on unobjected-to factual and legal conclusions” except upon grounds of plain error if necessary in the interests of justice. 11TH Cir. R. 3-1; see Resolution Trust Co. v. Hallmark Builders, Inc., 996 F.2d 1144, 1149 (11th Cir. 1993) (“When the magistrate provides such notice and a party still fails to object to the findings of fact [and law] and those findings are adopted by the district court the party may not challenge them on appeal in the absence of plain error or manifest injustice.”); Henley v. Johnson, 885 F.2d 790, 794 (11th Cir. 1989).

Done this 10 day of September, 2020.
